BRISTOL MAN MUST PAY COSTS OF CASE AND THE SUM OF $100

Henry Butler, Colored, Placed On Probation For One Year

ENTERS GUILTY PLEA

Other Court Cases Are Heard At Criminal Court Session

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 22—Pleading guilty to drunken driving at a session of criminal court yesterday, Henry Butler, 49, colored, Trenton avenue, Bristol, was placed on probation for one year on condition that he pay the costs of prosecution and the sum of $100 to the county of Bucks in lieu of a fine.

Officer Daniel Ferry testified the defendant came to the Municipal Building in Bristol May 22 in his car and that he was intoxicated. He was also carrying a loaded shotgun "for his own protection." The defendant, who was pronounced by a Bristol physician unfit to drive a car, was arrested by Officer Ferry and County Detective Anthony Russo.

Butler, who has lived in Bristol 12 years, and bears an excellent reputation, admitted that he was drinking and didn't realize the gun was loaded. "I was going to give the gun to some one for $5 which I was short," said the defendant. Some women living on the same street as the defendant, seeing him leave the house with the gun, called the police. She thought he was "going to get his wife."

Mrs. Butler, wife of the defendant, said her husband is not a drinking man and that they have been married six or seven years.

"You realize you might have killed somebody, even a child, while driving in your condition," Judge Boyer said to the defendant.

The defendant, who promised the Court he will never take another drink because he "doesn't like trouble," is employed by the Superior Zinc Corporation.

Officer Ferry said he never knew the defendant to take a drink until he came to the police station intoxicated.

Drunken driver cases were taken up at the September session of county criminal court, with President Judge Hiram H. Keller hearing cases in court room No. 1, and Judge Boyer in court room No. 2.

District Attorney Edward G. Biesler is in Judge Keller's court, and Assistant District Attorney Willard Curtin is in Judge Boyer's court.

Represented by State Senator Henry L. Snyder, of Allentown, James F. Druckenmiller, Allentown, pleaded guilty before Judge Keller yesterday to a charge of driving while drunk on the early morning of August 27, at the intersection of Bethlehem pike and Route 312, at Trainer's intersection.

Pvt. Yeutter, of the Quakertown Motor Police, testified that Druckenmiller told him he had drunk six beers and two glasses of whiskey at a banquet. The defendant's car was implicated in an accident in which another car was hit. No one was injured. The defendant's car was driven through a red light on the Bethlehem pike, and was struck by a car driven by Webster Reifsnnyder, of Richlandtown, who was going west on Route 312. The radiator of the Reifsnnyder car was slightly damaged.

Borough Badly Needs Man for Dog Catcher

The Bristol Police Department is anxious to procure the services of a man to act as dog catcher.

The Courier was appealed to today to locate such a man.

"We will pay good wages and furnish the equipment," said Chief of Police Linford J. Jones.

"There are a lot of dogs running at large in the borough and there are also a number of unlicensed dogs on the streets," said the police official.

"We need the services of a good man." Applicants are asked to apply to Chief Jones at the Municipal Building.

The Borough has the equipment and the dogs but no catcher.

SGT. REICHEL TELLS OF ACTIVATION CEREMONY

Writes from Camp Campbell, Ky.; Colorful Ceremony Is Conducted

REVIEWERS ENTHUSED

T. Sgt. John Reichel, who is located at Camp Campbell, Ky., in a letter written to The Bristol Courier, tells of an activation ceremony which recently took place at that camp. The letter follows:

Editor, The Bristol Courier, Bristol, Pa.

Dear Sir: Of course you remember me. I am back again to ask you to print the following story. It is a true one and it happened here just the other day. Up until last Thursday we, that is the officers and enlisted men, were known as the vanguard of the 12th Armored Division Cadre. Now we are the men of the 12th Armored Division. It was stated so officially last Thursday at an activation ceremony.

The story is as follows: 12th Armored Division Activated September 15, 1942.

General Brewer Takes Command: Another diamond studded, gun bristling, two-fisted, hard-hitting Armored Division was born last Thursday. It is the seventh such unit which was activated this year. The 12th Armored Division was added to the Armored Forces' fast growing family at 11 a. m., at Camp Campbell, Ky., with Major General Carlos Brewer in Command. In a speech the General solemnly said,

"To our Country we pledge our lives and our honor, and we promise victory."

Fitting ceremonies were held in the Motor Park west of the Division Headquarters Building at which Governor Keen Johnson of Kentucky, and Gen. Frazer, who was a personal representative of Gov. Prentice Cooper, of Tennessee, away on business which required his excellency's undivided attention, were among the principal speakers.

The camp is located in both states, Hopkinsville, Ky., and Clarksville, Tenn., are the nearest towns.

A reviewing stand and platforms were constructed for the guests of the division from where they witnessed a review and presentation of the troops to General Brewer.

The program and activation ceremonies were handled by Col. J. I. Ryan, Jr., Chief of Staff; Lt. Col. N. S. Edmond, intelligence officer; and Lt. Col. R. B. Evans, plans and training officer.

MORE FAMILIES MOVE INTO DEFENSE HOUSES

Thirteen Were Located At Bristol Terrace Project Last Night

EXPECT OTHERS TODAY

With approximately 13 families located in their new homes at Bristol Terrace by last evening, housewives were busy throughout the day-time hours arranging furniture, cooking their first meals in the new homes, doing the family wash, and countless other tasks that present themselves when new homes are occupied.

Parents found one of their first problems that of giving consideration to schools which their children will attend in the area. Some girls and boys are already following their studies in the Bristol township schools, while others expect to start sessions in a day or two.

The families represented come from widely-scattered areas, the heads of the households being employed at local defense industries. Some of the new residents express pleasure over the excellent conveniences included in the low rentals. A number of children are already in the community, the youngsters in the families ranging in number from one to four.

In some cases furniture has been placed for the past one or two months, the families eagerly waiting to move into their new homes. As yet, keys have not been turned over to them, it being necessary to spring the locks when they leave the premises, and secure the services of the watchman when they return. It is expected that keys will be available soon.

Among the residents are two or three former Bristolians. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pollin, who are residing at 5 Schumacher Drive, moved there on Sunday from Mayfair. Mr. Pollin formerly resided here. Due to shortage of apartments, he and his wife took up their residence in Mayfair some time ago. Two months ago they applied for one of the new units at Bristol Terrace, and on Sunday moved into their new home. Mr. Pollin is employed at the Bath Road plant of Hunter Manufacturing Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Duffy and two children came to their area six weeks ago from Richmond Hills, L. I. While waiting for their home at 22 Schumacher Drive to be placed in readiness they boarded with a family on Linden street. Mr. Duffy is employed at Fleetwings, Inc., plant No. 1.

Another family now located at Bristol Terrace is that of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grant, they and their four children moving to 6 Murphy avenue on Friday. Their furniture was placed in the house in July. Mr. Grant is employed in the shipping department of Fleetwings, Inc., plant No. 2. The Grant family moved here from Wheeling, W. Va., and resided with friends in Tullytown until their new home was ready. One of the children is attending the Bristol Township junior high school, and three attend Edgely school.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Seveiss, formerly of Jackson Heights, L. I., moved to 13 Murphy avenue last Tuesday. Mr. Seveiss is an inspector, U. S. Army Air Force, at Fleetwings plant.

Bristol Man Injured; Now in New York Hospital

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—A Manhattan man was arraigned in Manhattan Felony Court, yesterday, accused of feloniously assaulting Ralph Venera, 66, of 125 Mill street, Bristol.

The defendant was Charles Murphy, 56, of 429 West 42nd street, who, according to Policeman John Jacob of the West 30th street precinct, punched the Bristol man during a dispute on the street at Ninth avenue and West 42nd street, and as a result Mr. Venera fell to the sidewalk and sustained a fracture of the right hip. The injured man is in Roosevelt Hospital.

Magistrate Thomas A. Aurelio ordered the accused man held under $1,000 bail while he awaits a hearing on September 25th.

3 SUITS ARE STARTED; 1 IS DIVORCE ACTION

Upper Makefield Township Man Charges His Wife With Desertion

FULMOR CASE APPEALED

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 22 — Three suits, one an action in divorce, an appeal from a J. of P., and an action in assumpsit, have been begun in the Court of Common Pleas here.

Charging his wife, Margaret Snook Van Spreewenburgh, with desertion in July, 1927, John Francis Van Spreewenburgh, 311 Oakdale avenue, Oakdale, Upper Makefield township, has named her the respondent in a libel in divorce.

They were married October 30, 1923, by the Rev. C. P. Newton, pastor of Gethsemane Baptist Church in Trenton, N. J. The libellant's last known address was 166 West Hanover street, Trenton, N. J.

Following a decision by Justice of the Peace Horace A. Cooper, of Langhorne, in favor of Irwin E. Fulmor, Jr., Langhorne, against Josiah M. Hewitt, Langhorne, R. D., in the sum of $226.43, with interest from April 30, an appeal has been filed in the Office of the Prothonotary here.

Justice of the Peace Cooper rendered the judgment in favor of the plaintiff, Irwin E. Fulmor, Jr., July 2, when the defendants failed to appear at a hearing.

Involving a dispute concerning the delivery and purchase of fuel oil, Harry F. Gill and J. Alva Gill, trading as Gill Brothers, Churchville, have named Nellie A. Kiggins and Jane H. Worth, Woodland and Bellevue avenues, Langhorne, the defendant in an action in assumpsit claiming the sum of $771.49 which they allege is due them.

Lt. William J. Begley Is Honored at Farewell Party

Lt. William J. Begley, who recently enlisted in the U. S. Navy, was tendered a farewell last evening by his co-workers, employees of the Bristol Trust Company.

The affair was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Lester D. Thorne, Jefferson avenue and Radcliffe street. Employees of the local banking institution presented Mr. Begley with a duffel bag filled with miscellaneous, useful items. The serving of refreshments concluded the evening's sociality.

Ten Tons of Scrap Metal Garnered in Langhorne

LANGHORNE, Sept. 22—A jail door, weighing 800 pounds, topped the list of contributions in the local drive for scrap metal during the past week.

Ten tons of scrap metal were gathered under sponsorship of Jesse W. Soby Post, No. 382, American Legion.

The jail door had been in disuse for many years, and it was stored in the basement of the Townsend Building until the nation's call for all scrap brought it forth to do its duty again. The amount of scrap collected averaged slightly less than 12 pounds per person in the Langhorne-Langhorne Manor area.

Three trucks were contributed for the drive by Frank Vogenberger and Archie Kaufman. Working on the Vogenberger truck were Dr. A. L. Wixon, Herbert M. Walker and James E. Lyon. One of the Kaufman trucks was driven by Harry Hibbs and the second by Ellis Hellyer. Working with the trucks were Roscoe L. Horner, Frank Crosley, George M. Thorpe, William Gaston, Frank Cassidy and Frank Wahl.

Langhorne Boy Scouts visited each home in the community and reminded the residents of the drive and the importance of having their scrap out for collection.

PHILIPPI-RAGNOLI

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Ragnoli, Pond street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Dora, to Private Severini Philippi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Philippi, Yatesburg. The ceremony occurred on September 4th at Columbia, Ga.

FIRE MARSHAL'S REPORT

The loss by fire in Bucks County during the past three months, according to Bucks County Fire Marshal Raymond L. Strunk, of Quakertown, totals $27,205.

Five houses were destroyed by fire, and of five barns which caught fire, damage to one was caused by lightning.

The firemen of the county are considering arranging for placement of a "dead-line" on period in which death claims can be made. It is stated that in some instances relatives of some firemen have waited two and three years before filing claims.

WAR DOOMS ANCIENT TOWN IN ENGLAND, AND THE SAME MIGHT HAPPEN HERE

By Leo V. Dolan (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

SOMEWHERE IN EAST ANGLIA, Sept. 22—(INS)—This is a seldom-told story of what happens when military strategy necessitates the death of a community.

It is the story of an old—so very old—memory-hallowed town in England—not the story of Oradell, New Jersey, or La Grande, Ore., or Painswick, Pa.

But it might be. This drowsy little thatched-roofed village, where dogs sleep quietly in the sun and sheep graze the grass-bordered walks, is no town that you know.

But it might be. . . it might be any town of comparable size in a United States now fully war-conscious. It might be your own town—it MAY be your town—it might involve you, your next-door neighbors, the folks with whom you play bridge, your grocer, the butcher, the preacher and the teacher now guiding your children.

For war plays no favorites. When the cold logic of military necessity dictates that the blotting out of a town is essential to the war effort, that town is doomed.

Here is what one reporter found in a town of 650 souls—let's call it Heartbreak Heath—ordered evacuated because the land is needed now for a purpose that can't yet be told.

If you've ever been in the old ghost towns of what once were rip-roaring,

The air-raid wardens and emergency police met last night and Warren P. Snyder, superintendent of the Bristol public schools, was named chairman of the drive to succeed William J. Begley. Mr. Begley had previously been serving as chairman and had presided at a meeting held last Wednesday evening, at which time preliminary plans were considered. Saturday, Mr. Begley was notified of having been commissioned in the U. S. Naval Reserve. He leaves Wednesday to report for duty.

Mr. Snyder was present at the meeting last night, and taking up where Mr. Begley had to stop his plans, named committees. The dates for the big drive were set, time for the collections were decided, and now the campaign is under way.

The money derived from the sale of the scrap metal and rubber will be divided between the air-raid wardens and emergency police to purchase equipment which they need.

The goal has been set at 600,000 pounds.

The air-raid wardens will visit each and every residence, store and factory in their sectors and request that every piece of scrap metal and scrap rubber, regardless of how small or how large, be gotten ready for the drive which begins September 28th. On this date the actual collection of the scrap will begin in a big way. The collections will start in the First Ward on Monday night, September 28th.

Fleets of trucks have been offered and drivers are volunteering their aid. The drive is to be carried into every section of Bristol, and no one is to be missed.

The air raid wardens and emergency police are doing a good job for the people of Bristol, and it is up to the people of Bristol to do a good job for the air raid wardens and the emergency police. The money is to be used to buy the equipment necessary for the wardens and the police, so no one should hesitate about getting up into the attic, down into the cellar and out into the garage to get out the scrap metal and scrap rubber so badly needed.

Unless the boys at the front have the implements of war they cannot protect the homes and country for which they are fighting.

The moving picture theatre managers are to be mobilized and asked to advertise the drive; preachers of the Bristol churches are to be requested to announce the campaign from their pulpits and urge the people to help. The school children are to be enlisted in the move.

Scott Wetherill, last night, offered the use of his fleet of trucks, and others having trucks are requested to offer their aid. The more people gotten into the drive the quicker and more

One Man's Opinion By Walter Kiernan (U. S. Staff Writer)

The Louis-Conn fight agreement has more secret passages than a haunted castle.

The Army announced that they were going to fight for Uncle Sam and for free.

Now it dribbles out that they are going to fight for Uncle Sam, Uncle Mike Jacobs and Uncle Henry Morgenthau.

Both boys have run up big tabs with Uncle Mike and the fight has been complicated by the private debt angle.

They will be permitted to extract enough treasure from the box office to sweeten Uncle Mike's petty cash box but then Uncle Henry will catch a slice.

So Uncle Mike will be accused of playing the pound of flesh role which isn't so because he had no hand in the proceedings.

And Uncle Henry will be accused of tax persecution.

And families of $50 a month privates will rightfully howl about "special privileges."

And a good fight will get all tangled up in controversial issues.

Thought for the day: General Bungle for third man in the ring.

for the management of the theatre announces that "Sergeant York" is showing today and tomorrow.

Besides a story packed with excitement, romance and pathos, "Sergeant York" offers a splendid cast. Gary Cooper plays the starring role—the easy-going, sharp-shooting Alvin C. York, who takes a while to think things out, but once he makes up his mind, there's no stopping him. Cooper was given the Academy Award for his role. Joan Leslie is cast as a pretty, clever and slightly whimsical mountain girl with whom York falls in love and later marries.

BRISTOL THEATRE

"Not A Ladies' Man," a new drama concerning a kid with courage and a dad with "heart," shows today at the Bristol Theatre. Featuring Paul Kelly, Fay Wray and Douglas Croft in the leading roles, the new film is said to be packed with thrills and good-natured comedy as two "women-haters" find out that it's hard to remain that way when the right one comes along.

Weaklings and sissies will find the going pretty hard at the Bristol Theatre where "The Strangler" took up his abode today.

The arsenal has been responsible for the giving of 500 gallons of blood up to this date.

Mrs. Holland, who attended the conference at Allentown this month, gave an interesting report of home service of Red Cross during war time as presented there by eminent speakers. The following was emphasized: The service to the veteran was claimed to be our first responsibility. There is for Red Cross a long job of service for every man who comes out of the war. Communication and information is made possible by Red Cross with service men abroad through Geneva. In Japan there is little concern given prisoners. Their slogan is "Victory or Death," consequently Red Cross has a great responsibility in seeing that those soldiers are sought and all possible information sent to their families. A telegram of 25 words can be sent to soldiers abroad without cost to the families by Red Cross. Field workers are being trained by the thousands whose qualities must be intelligence and understanding, with added warmth and sympathy. Only one so nationalistic that you can't help Red Cross, as an organization, is al-

Plans for the construction of Camp Campbell were begun many months ago, and the camp is taking on all the aspects of a military fort. A great brick hospital has been constructed, and a field house, the largest building on the camp, contains three basketball courts, and places for other indoor sports. It is so constructed that it can be converted into a mammoth theatre for outstanding shows that are being planned for the soldiers of the armored forces.

An activation day ceremony is one of the most colorful parades I have ever witnessed. I saw much even though my view was limited from the ranks. It is the "glamor of war" and the soldiers love it. The government certainly has ways of doing things, such as staging parades, that make added warmth and sympathy. Only one so nationalistic that you can't help Red Cross, as an organization, is al-
